KS2 UNIT OF WORK:

REGINALD ALFRED JAMES COOPER

CHILD MILL WORKER IN WW1

Dear Reginald,

I am writing to you today to sincerely express my gratitude for your work in Glossop cotton mill during World War One.

To begin with, I'd like to thank you for working so hard to produce materials that were essential for the war effort, such as fabric for aeroplane wings. Things could have been different if Britain's factories hadn't continued to run and produce important materials.

Secondly, I'd like to express my appreciation for the fact that you gave up things you enjoyed (like music andsport) to work in the mill. (I enjoy playing football with my friends and learning to play the piano and I would be upset if I had to give those up to work.)

Finally, I will thank you for the impact you've had on us today. I noticed that the school leaving age was raised to 14 in 1918. I think this might have been because children like you had to make sacrifices for the war and the government decided that you deserved better. I'm so pleased about this this because I wouldn't like to leave school and go to work at the age of twelve.

I hope, Reginald, that I have shown you how grateful I am and will continue to be for everything you did.

Yours sincerely,

Ms Smith

Suggested features to focus on:

- Paragraphs
- Specific reasons for gratitude
- Cohesive devices
- First person
- Past tense when referring to achievements
- References to the present
- Letter format - 'Dear', Yours sincerely' etc
- Emotive language
- Praise
- Formal tone