

Salute a Soldier

An exhibition of stories, poems and images honouring the work of the UK armed forces

Contributions are sought for a community exhibition to mark

Armed Forces Day 2011

In the great and ancient story of Britain's struggle to be free I fought through death to glory every chapter mentions me From Hastings to El Alamein at Blenheim and Waterloo Quebec, Lucknow and Ladysmith the Somme and Dunkirk too I've always served you faithfully Make this therefore your vow to save and thereby gratefully salute the soldier now

Contributions should be sent either via email to arts@rushcliffe.gov.uk or by post to the Arts and Events Officer, Rushcliffe Borough Council, Civic Centre, Pavilion Road, West Bridgford, Nottingham, NG2 5FE
Items to be returned should be marked with a contact name and address

The exhibition will be on display in West Bridgford Library from Monday 27 June to Friday 8 July and in Bridgford Park on Saturday 25 June from 12pm - 9pm as part of Rushcliffe Borough Council's Armed Forces Day Proms in the Park
